Ah, thank you !

We'll see what the others assume it to be.

Of course, there's still no need to hurry.

BTW., if anybody is really interested in this tube, let me know !

I do not have to own everything - but don't want to throw interesting things away.

However, I'm still interested in further information ! I'm collecting primarily informations in such cases, that expands the scope of mind but doesn't require space in my home...

Best regards from Hamburg !
